INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

Members

Main Street Securities, LLC

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of Main Street Securities, LLC as of December 31, 2003, and the related statements of income (loss), changes in members' equity, changes in subordinated borrowings, and cash flows for the year then ended that you are filing pursuant to rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Main Street Securities, LLC at December 31, 2003, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Main Street Securities, LLC

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

December 31, 2003

NOTE A - SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

A summary of the significant accounting policies consistently applied in the preparation of the accompanying financial statements follows.

1. Organization and nature of operations

Main Street Securities, LLC (the Company) is a broker-dealer registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) and is a member of the National Association of Securities Dealers (NASD). The Company is a Kansas limited liability company organized on January 21, 1999, and shall endure for thirty years from date of organization unless extended under terms of the articles of organization.

The Company operates as an introducing broker, clearing all transactions on a fully-disclosed basis through a secondary clearing agreement with another broker-dealer. The Company does not hold funds or securities for customers.

2. Commissions receivable

The Company considers commissions receivable to be fully collectible; accordingly, no allowance for doubtful accounts is required. If amounts become uncollectible, they will be charged to operations when that determination is made.

3. Equipment and software

Depreciation and amortization are provided for in amounts sufficient to relate the cost of depreciable assets to operations over their estimated service lives, which range from five to seven years, using the straight-line method.

Maintenance, repairs and renewals which neither materially add to the value of the property nor appreciably prolong its life are charged to expense as incurred. Gains or losses on dispositions of equipment and software are included in earnings.

4. Commissions

Commissions and related clearing expenses are recorded on a trade-date basis as securities transactions occur.

5. Income taxes

The Company is treated as a partnership for federal and state income tax purposes. Consequently, income taxes are not payable by, or provided for, the Company. Members are taxed individually on their shares of the Company's earnings. The Company's net income or loss is allocated among the members in accordance with their ownership of the Company.

Main Street Securities, LLC

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

December 31, 2003

NOTE A - SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES - continued

6. Comprehensive Income

Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 130 requires the reporting of comprehensive income and its components in the financial statements. Comprehensive income is defined as the change in equity from transactions and other events and circumstances from non-owner sources, and excludes investments by and distributions to owners. Comprehensive income includes net income and other items of comprehensive income meeting the above criteria. The Company's only component of other comprehensive income is the unrealized holding gain on securities available for sale, which is reported in the statement of changes in members' equity.

7. Cash equivalents

For purposes of the statement of cash flows, the Company considers all highly liquid investments, with original maturities of less than ninety days, that are not held for sale in the ordinary course of business to be cash equivalents.

8. Use of estimates

In preparing the Company's financial statements, management is required to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

NOTE B - CASH SEGREGATED UNDER REGULATION

Cash is held in a centralized registration depository with the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. and used solely for registration transactions.

NOTE C - SECURITIES

Securities available for sale consist of equity securities carried at fair value of $2,001. The cost basis of the securities is $2,178 with the unrealized losses of $177 included in accumulated other comprehensive loss. Gains and losses on the sale of securities are determined using the specific identification method.

Securities not readily marketable consist of 300 shares of The Nasdaq Stock Market, Inc. stock, carried at cost.

Main Street Securities, LLC

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

December 31, 2003

NOTE D - SUBORDINATED BORROWINGS

The borrowings under subordination agreements at December 31, 2003 consist of the following:

6% subordinated loan, due October 31, 2006	$ 9,800
6% subordinated loan, due October 31, 2006	10,200
	$20,000

The subordinated borrowings are available in computing net capital under the SEC's uniform net capital rule. To the extent that such borrowings are required for the Company's continued compliance with minimum net capital requirements, and until written approval is granted by NASD Regulation, Inc., they may not be repaid.

NOTE E - CONCENTRATIONS OF CREDIT RISK

The Company is engaged in various trading and brokerage activities in which counterparties primarily include broker-dealers, banks, and other financial institutions. In the event counterparties do not fulfill their obligations, the Company may be exposed to risk. The risk of default depends on the creditworthiness of the counterparty or issuer of the instrument. It is the Company's policy to review, as necessary, the credit standing of each counterparty.

NOTE F - NET CAPITAL REQUIREMENTS

The Company is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission Uniform Net Capital Rule (SEC rule 15c3-1), which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital and requires that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, both as defined, shall not exceed 15 to 1 (and the rule of the applicable exchange also provides that equity capital may not be withdrawn if the resulting net capital ratio would exceed 10 to 1). At December 31, 2003, the Company had net capital of $11,663, which was $1,382 in excess of its required net capital of $10,281. The Company's net capital ratio was 13.22 to 1.

NOTE G - RELATED PARTIES

The Company shares office space and equipment with related companies under an agreement whereby the Company reimburses a certain percentage of various overhead expenses during the term of the agreement. In 2003, the Company paid approximately $296,000 for such expenses.

NOTE H - SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

In January, 2004, the Company's members contributed $1,400 of additional capital to improve its net capital position.

OF THE SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

Members

Main Street Securities, LLC

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Main Street Securities, LLC as of and for the period ended December 31, 2003, and have issued our report thereon dated January 26, 2004. Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained in Schedule I is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT
ON INTERNAL CONTROL REQUIRED BY SEC RULE 17a-5

Members

Main Street Securities, LLC

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements and supplementary information of Main Street Securities, LLC (the Company) for the year ended December 31, 2003, we considered its internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons
2. Recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13
3. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters in internal control that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that error or fraud in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2003, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the members, management, the SEC, and other regulatory agencies that rely on rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
